Northeast Communications Group Awarded National Telecommunications Cabling Contract

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – June 4, 2014 (Hamilton, NJ) ... Northeast Communications Group announced today it has been awarded a national telecommunications cabling contract by National Cooperative Purchasing Alliance (NCPA), a leading national government purchasing cooperative working to reduce the cost of goods and services to government by leveraging the purchasing power of public agencies in the United States.

The contract will include a full-line of communication wiring installation and related services. The contract also includes a full-line of nearly 1,400 commonly used telecommunication products currently made available by the company to the U.S. General Services Administration which will be made available to governmental and non-profit entities utilizing this contract. New Jersey has allowed local contracting units to utilize national cooperative contracts as a method of procurement with enactment of P.L. 2011, c.139 which makes the procurement process more efficient and provides cost savings to governmental entities through significant joint purchasing power.

“We are pleased to have been awarded this cabling contract and look forward to working with NCPA to introduce our quality telecommunication services and products and customer service to its existing cooperative purchasing clients as well as to creating new partnerships with public and private entities throughout the country,” said Christopher Kent, Chief Executive Officer for the company.
